Dear MTSNYS Members:

I look forward to seeing you at our 53rd Annual Meeting at Ithaca College on April 6–7, 2024. Peter Silberman is the Local Arrangements coordinator, and the Program Committee consists of Alex Reed (Ithaca College), chair; Kofi Agawu (CUNY Graduate Center); Tomoko Deguchi (Winthrop University); Kristi Hardman (University of North Carolina at Charlotte); Kyle Hutchinson (Colgate University); and Philip Stoecker (Hofstra University), ex officio. Our program of presentations will explore a vast array of topics. The complete program and registration information for the conference appears at mtsnys.org.

I am thrilled to announce that Nancy Rao (Rutgers University) will lead the workshop, “‘Shilin Jita’: Listening to Opera in America of the Roaring Twenties.” The workshop will take place on Saturday, April 6 from 7:30–9:30 p.m. To apply, please send a brief bio (200 words maximum) to Alex Reed (sreed@ithaca.edu). Individuals at any stage of their career are encouraged to apply; however, priority will be given to graduate students. The Plenary Session at this year’s conference will celebrate the Society’s 53 years with reflections by Mary Arlin, Tim Johnson, Betsy Marvin, and Philip Stoecker.

As usual we will conduct our 2024 elections electronically. Our Vice President, Peter Silberman (Ithaca College), will oversee the electoral process and ensure voter anonymity. Elections contribute significantly to the well-being of a society, and this year provides a slate of candidates for Vice President, Treasurer, and two Members-at-Large. Terms for newly elected officers begin after the Spring 2024 MTSNYS meeting. The nomination/election cycle is an outstanding opportunity for members of MTSNYS to steer the direction of the Society through the perspectives represented in its leaders.

Volume 47/48 (2022–2023) of Theory and Practice is currently in the layout stage, with publication expected in early 2024, under the direction of Co-editors Trevor de Clercq (Middle Tennessee State University) and Crystal Peebles (Ithaca College), and Reviews Editor Daphne Tan (University of Toronto). The journal is also excited to announce a new addition to the team, Eron Smith (Oberlin College and Conservatory), who joins as the Patricia Carpenter Awards editor.

Theory and Practice is currently seeking submissions for Volume 49 (2024). Please visit mtsnys.org to review the guidelines and information for submitting manuscripts. Note that the editors especially encourage shorter submissions within the range of 1,500 to 3,500 words, corresponding roughly to the length of a spoken conference presentation.

MTSNYS relies and thrives on your membership. Please ensure that you are up to date on payment and that we know your active email address. Encourage your colleagues and students to join, and, if you are able, please invest in the future of MTSNYS by donating to support the Society. All contributions, great or small, are welcome.

To renew your membership and register for the conference in advance, login to the MTSNYS User Dashboard and complete the requested two-step registration process: (1) complete a Google Form; and (2) submit your payment via PayPal. Your registration will not be processed unless both the Google Form and the PayPal payment are submitted. (Note, though, that retired and undergrad student registrants get in free and do not need to pay.)

I have enjoyed working with the MTSNYS Board, Program Committee, and other members of the Society while serving as President in my first year. I look forward to continuing to serve the Society in this role, and I appreciate what each of you brings to the Society through your membership and service. I look forward to seeing many of you at Ithaca College, or if you cannot make it to the annual meeting this year, please do keep in touch with the Society.

Best wishes,

Philip Stoecker
MTSNYS President

2024 ELECTIONS FOR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Music Theory Society of New York State is holding its annual elections electronically. Vice President Peter Silberman will distribute ballots via electionbuddy.com and will report the election results at our annual meeting in April.

If you are a member in good standing, you will receive an e-mail inviting you to vote. Please take a few moments to participate in this election. If you do not receive an electronic ballot by Monday, February 20, please email Peter Silberman at psilberman@ithaca.edu. The election will close on March 15, 2024. Results will be announced at our Annual Meeting April 6–7, 2024.

CANDIDATES FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Táhirih Motazedian is Assistant Professor of Music at Vassar College. Her book, Key Constellations: Interpreting Tonality in Film (University of California Press, 2023) explores how key and pitch relationships in film soundtracks tell a story. She has published (and has forthcoming) articles and chapters on a range of topics, including Sergei Eisenstein's production of Die Walküre, the "heartstring schema" in film and nineteenth-century music, Holst's Planets, Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake in the film Black Swan, and Shostakovich's second violin concerto. She is a board member for MTSNYS, associate editor of the SMT-V journal, and a member of the SMT Information Technology Committee. She holds a PhD in music theory from Yale University. Before her career in music theory, Táhirih was a planetary scientist at NASA.

Loretta Terrigno is Assistant Professor of Music Theory at the Eastman School of Music. Her articles and reviews appear in Music Theory Online, Music Analysis, Music Research Forum, and Rethinking Brahms (ed. Nicole Grimes and Reuben Phillips, published by Oxford University Press in 2022), Notes: the Quarterly Journal of the Music Library Association, Nineteenth-Century Music Review, and the American Brahms Society newsletter. She serves as Secretary and Membership Chair for the American Brahms Society and on the editorial board of Music Theory Online. She has been an editorial board member for the Journal for Music Theory Pedagogy and a board member-at-large for the Music Theory Society for New York State. Her research interests include text-music relations in German and English art song and music and narrative. She is a pianist and holds degrees in performance from the Mannes College of Music and a PhD in music theory and musicology from the Graduate Center, City University of New York.

CANDIDATES FOR TREASURER

Tamyka Jordon-Conlin is a music theorist and composer. She received a MM in Composition and a PhD in Music Theory from Louisiana State University. Jordon-Conlin previously served at Wiley College as Assistant Professor and was the official accompanist of The A Cappella Choir. She is currently Assistant Professor of Music at Vassar College where she teaches theory and history. Jordon-Conlin serves on the Steering Committee for Africana Studies at Vassar and on the editorial board for Music Theory Online. She recently participated on a panel at AMS/SMT in Denver concerning music theory and historically Black colleges and universities. Her main interests are popular music, hip-hop, rap, and Afrofuturism.

Anna Stephan-Robinson is Professor and Director of Music Theory and Ear Training at West Liberty University in West Virginia, where she has taught Musicianship, all levels of Music Theory and Ear Training, and applied horn. Her areas of research interest include pedagogy, analysis of twentieth- and twenty-first-century concert and popular music, and music of women composers. She has presented at international, national, and regional conferences, and published in several journals, including Music Theory Online and the Journal of Music Theory Pedagogy. Anna's service activities include positions of Vice President of the Music Theory Society of the Mid-Atlantic, Secretary-Treasurer of the Allegheny Chapter of the American Musicological Society, and Senator in the West Liberty University Faculty Senate. She holds the Ph.D. in Music Theory from the Eastman School of Music.

Alice Xue currently holds a position as a member-at-large with MTSNYS. She is teaching music theory and aural skills at New York University and Hunter College while finalizing her doctoral dissertation at CUNY Graduate Center, where she's doing research on form and structure of African music. Outside of academia, Alice is a freelance trumpet player and teacher, as well as a semi-professional cartoonist.

CANDIDATES FOR MEMBER-AT-LARGE

Kyle Hutchinson is currently a Visiting Assistant Professor of Music Theory at Colgate University in Hamilton, New York. His research interests include the psychoacoustics of chromatic tonality in the music of composers such as Richard Strauss, Alma Mahler-Werfel, and Florence Price. He is also interested in intersections of analysis and ethnography in Price's music, theorizing the role of melody in form-functional theory, and intersections of narrative and musical structure in Broadway musicals. His research has been published in Theory and Practice, Music Theory Online, Music Analysis, Music Theory Spectrum, and Intégral. He received the Patricia Carpenter Emerging Scholar Award from the Music Theory Society of New York State in 2020, and the George Proctor Prize from the Canadian University Music Society in 2018. Kyle has also received the University of Toronto faculty of music's award for outstanding Teaching Assistant in 2017, and an award for distinguished service to the faculty of music in 2020. Kyle currently serves on the editorial board for Theory and Practice, the 2023–2024 program committee for the Music Theory Society of New York State, and on the Awards Committee for the Society for Music Theory.

Lukas Perry is ABD in Music Theory at the Eastman School of Music. His research focuses on functional harmonic analysis in Maurice Duruflé's modal music and semiotics in video games and film. He has presented at MTSNYS, SMT national, the North American Conference on Video Game Music, and regional chapters of SMT and the American Musicological Society. Lukas also currently serves as a Co-Editor for Intégral: The Journal of Applied Musical Thought. He earned an M.A. in Music Theory and M.M. in Choral Conducting from the University of Minnesota and a B.A. in Music and B.S. in Mathematics from the University of Puget Sound. He has enjoyed getting to know MTSNYS members at meetings over the past couple years and would look forward to becoming more involved with the Society.

John Reef is an Associate Professor of Music Theory at Nazareth University. His research interests include J. S. Bach and Baroque music, Schenkerian theory and analysis, phrase rhythm, and Harry T. Burleigh. His research has been published in Music Theory Spectrum, Music Theory Online, The Journal of Music Theory Pedagogy, and Indiana Theory Review. He also coauthored the online annotated bibliography American Music Theory, 1955–2010 for Oxford Bibliographies Online and was part of the editorial team for The Rite of Spring at 100, winner of the Ruth A. Solie Award in 2018. In 2017–2019 he taught May-term classes at Shandong Normal University in Jinan, China.

Ruka Shironishi is Part-time Assistant Professor of Music Theory at The New School University (Mannes School of Music) and Adjunct Assistant Professor at Queens College (CUNY). She holds a Ph.D. in music theory from CUNY Graduate Center and a BM in piano performance from San Francisco Conservatory of Music. Her current research focuses on the type of modal harmony that was created as the result of the plainchant revival in nineteenth-century France. At MTSNYS's annual meeting in 2023, she presented a paper titled “Modal Cadences in the Tonality of Plainchant.” She has also presented on this subject at the 2022 annual meeting of SMT, as well as at Congrès doctoral international held in 2021 at Sorbonne University. In addition to being a pianist, Ruka is also an active performer of Balinese gamelan. She travels regularly to Bali as a member of Yowana Sari to perform and research the tradition of Balinese music.

Sean Smither is on the faculty at the Juilliard School, where he teaches jazz theory and analysis, and at Mannes School of Music, where he teaches courses in classical theory and analysis. He received his Ph.D. in music theory from Rutgers University and also holds an M.A. in music theory from Rutgers, as well as a B.F.A. in jazz performance (drums) from the New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music. His research focuses on improvisation, the analysis of jazz, music ontology, and musical time. His work has been published in Theory and Practice, Music Theory Online, and Jazz Perspectives and he continues to present his research at regional and national conferences throughout North America. He currently serves as chair of the Society for Music Theory's Improvisation Interest Group.

Graduate Student Conference Grants

Music Theory Society of New York State (MTSNYS) Graduate Student Conference Grants help graduate students defray the costs of attending annual MTSNYS conferences. Up to eight grants of up to $200 each are awarded yearly, to be used to reimburse travel, lodging, and meal expenses. Each grant also includes a waiver of the conference registration fee.

Any student currently enrolled in a graduate program is eligible to apply. Applicants need not be members of MTSNYS. Awardees will be selected by lottery; students awarded a grant will be ineligible to receive one the following year. All decisions made by MTSNYS regarding conference grants are final. The 2024 conference will be held at Ithaca College from April 6–7.

To apply for a 2024 conference grant, send an email with your name, mailing address, email, phone, name of institution and degree program, and proof of enrollment (scan of student ID or other documentation) to:

Ben Baker, MTSNYS Treasurer
bbaker@esm.rochester.edu

The application deadline is Friday, March 8, 2024.

Awardees must submit all conference-related receipts (travel, lodging, meals) by April 15, 2024. Grants will then be paid by PayPal or check in US funds.
